Obituary.

I would not live away; I ask not to stay. Where storm after storm rises dark o'er the way. The few lurid mornings that dawn on us here, Are enough for life's woes, full enough for its cheer. I would not live away, no, welcome the tomb! Since Jesus hath lain there, I dread not its gloom: There sweet be my rest till he bid me arise, To hail him in triumph descending the skies. Who, who would live away, away from his God? Away from you heaven, that blissful abode. Where the rivers of pleasure now o'er the bright plains, And the noontide of glory eternally reigns. Where the saints of all ages in harmony meet, Their Savior and brethren transported to greet; While the anthems of rapture increasingly roll, And the smile of the Lord is the feast of the soul.

Phoebe J., daughter of Moses and Nancy Long, was born near Owensville, Clermont Co., Aug. 20, 1839 and passed into rest eternal from her home in Buford, Highland Co., April 26, 1912. She lived 72 years and some months beyond the three score and ten years of scriptural mention.

When a little girl she united with the M. E. church under the ministry of Rev. James P. Jackson. The old church stood on her grand-father's farm and in time descended to her father. So the girl grew to womanhood with the heritage of God's house, but better still was the accepted faith that in a long life of suffering and sorrow never failed or faltered.

Sister Burns was most devoted to her church. She loved all her ordinances and was especially devoted to the Sunday School.

In talking to the writer of this memoir some years ago, she spoke of the old hymns of her church and how she loved them. She said, "I often dream of that Better Land and our family all united and how we will sing the old hymns of praises to God."

On January 1, 1862, Phoebe Long gave her hand in marriage to Jacob Burns. To this union came two sons, John E. and Moses E.

The son, Moses, beloved by all and in the prime of manhood was suddenly called to his reward on Dec. 17, 1884. From this shock the fond mother never fully recovered.

The father followed in Oct., 1898. His memory still lingers in this church, a most upright, noble man.

There remains to day the only son, John, with his faithful wife and 4 devoted children who have done all in their power for a frail and suffering mother and grandmother.

In the winter of 1872 Mr. and Mrs. Burns came to Buford, where the husband entered the mercantile business in the house now owned by G. A. Minke. After 2 1/2 years they moved to the farm 4 miles east of Buford, where the son now resides.

Sister Burns was a great sufferer. For almost 30 years her body was the furnace of pain. Five years of this time she never walked and only those who cared for her knew the days of agony and nights devoid of ease.

We, with strong, vigorous bodies, so prone to complain over life's ills should we not remember the old, the frail and pain tossed bodies of our loved ones?

And as feeble babes that suffer, Toss and cry, and will not rest, Are the ones the tender mother, Holds the closest, loves the best.

So where we are weak and wretched, By our griefs weighed down, distressed, Then it is that God's great patience, Holds us closest, loves us best.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the kind people of Buford for their help and kindness during mother's sickness and death and also Rev. Kelch and Mr. Davis, for kindness shown.

Real bargains should never be overlooked. We are now offering one that is so good that every woman should take advantage of. The News-Herald, 1 year; McCall's Magazine, 3 years and 3 McCall's patterns for only $1.50 is certainly a remarkable bargain. The regular price of McCall's Magazine is 50 cents a year; the patterns 15 cents each and the News-Herald $1 a year. Thousands of people are paying these prices every year. You can get for $1.50 what others are paying $2.95 for.
